"SUNRISE — SUNSET"

Each day at Pearl River Junior College begins with a sunrise; ends with a sunset, and contains a thousand memories — a million precious moments in between.

As we, the students of Pearl River, look back over the year 1974-75, many memories flood our minds. The big events of the year stand out, but the little things, the day to day activities, also have a place in the pathways that our thoughts take as we engage in retrospect.

Who can forget the many little moments that compose daily life at the River? Leaving the pleasures of quiet dreaming to get ready for a day of classes starts the morning for many PRC students. Going about the many little tasks that insure a full day's worth of presentable beauty, wondering if remaining in bed is worth one more cut in first period, trivial things that hold monumental importance are all part of living in the dormitory.

And the Ritual Begins

The day officially begins on the Pearl River campus with the opening of the cafeteria for breakfast. The morning trip from dormitory to cafeteria to post office and on to class has become almost a ritual at PRC.

The outcome of an entire day can be determined before 8:00 a.m. The breakfast menu, whether or not Mom remembered to send the weekly allowance, and the weather all decide if it will be a good day or a bad day.

Although very few dormitory students rise early enough to ever see a sunrise, many students who commute must get up as early as 5:00 a.m. to catch the bus. It's a source of amazement to many students who stay on campus that the commuting students are always so wide awake when they get off the bus.

Early Morning Hours

The early morning hours at PRC are filled with many activities designed simply to brace the student for a long day.

The student center is a focal point of activity as both dormitory and commuting students come together to prepare themselves for classes with a stiff shot of hot coffee.

The showers in the dormitory are usually going full blast at this time. With a large number of young people trying to share a small number of showers, havoc is sure to reign. Dormitory showers on the Pearl River campus are the breeding grounds for most of the pranks pulled on campus.

"NEITHER RAIN NOR SNOW NOR DARK OF NIGHT . . ."

After the many preparations of the morning are over, classes finally begin. No matter what the weather, no matter how many books you have to carry, no matter how sleepy you are, when the first period bell rings, the day has to begin.

The student center always contains a few last minute stragglers. Those lucky enough not to have a first period class remain to goad the others on.

"Neither rain nor snow nor dark of night . . ." will keep the day from beginning.

And Life Goes on . . .

As the day progresses at the River, life goes into full swing. The bookstore, the cafeteria, the student center, and all the many buildings and offices on campus are the spots where many activities and memories take place.

After the initial rush of registration, the bookstore settles into a lazy pace. It's the ideal spot to replace a lost pencil five minutes before an algebra test or to get some envelopes to mail off that letter your mom has been asking for.

The PRC cafeteria has always been one of the main meeting places on campus. It is often the mite or major catastrophes such as dropping trays, finding out that your best friend went out with your worst enemy, and of all the grades on the biology test, finding out that yours was the lowest.

The student center also sees an added spurt of activity around lunch time. Foosball, the national past-time on the Pearl River Junior College campus, is usually being played during the entire lunch hour.

Though classes are considered a major part of life at Pearl River Junior College, memories are made during the leisure hous.

Discussions underneath the shade of an oak tree can lead to friendships that last forever. These friendships are often among the fondest memories that students carry with them as they leave PRC to go on to bigger and better things.

Friends getting together to enjoy a few quiet moments are part of the magic of going to school on a small junior college campus. Playing together, eating together, just relaxing together all become part of growing together into mature adults ready to go out and meet the world.

"I NEVER THOUGHT THAT I WOULD SEE, A POEM AS LOVELY AS A TREE"

The huge remainder of the majestic oak is like a monument on the Pearl River campus. It has seen the youthful fares of many generations. It probably shed silent tears as it saw sons of the River go off to war. It watched as countless domestic crisis occurred under its boughs. And now, as it silently allows itself to be used as a setting for youthful shenanigins, it has personal memories of the many who have come before.

And Fun Begins

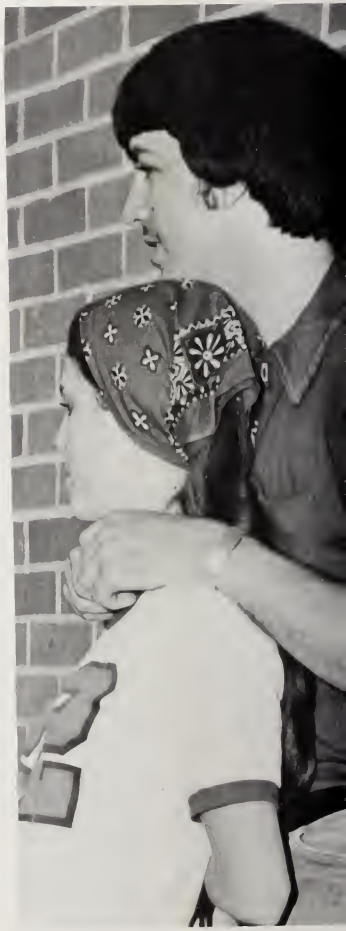
After the school day has ended, many happy hours are spent as students engage in their interests on and around the campus. These interests include playing the guitar, playing intramural football, or practicing for intercollegiate football — and of course — girl watching.

The many combined interests of PRC students is all a part of making well-rounded individuals. The Pearl River campus is simply a stage from which potential nominees for life's Oscars play their parts.



As Darkness Begins

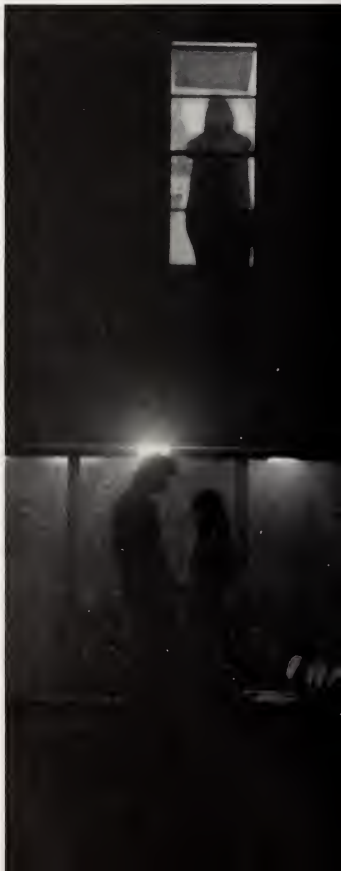
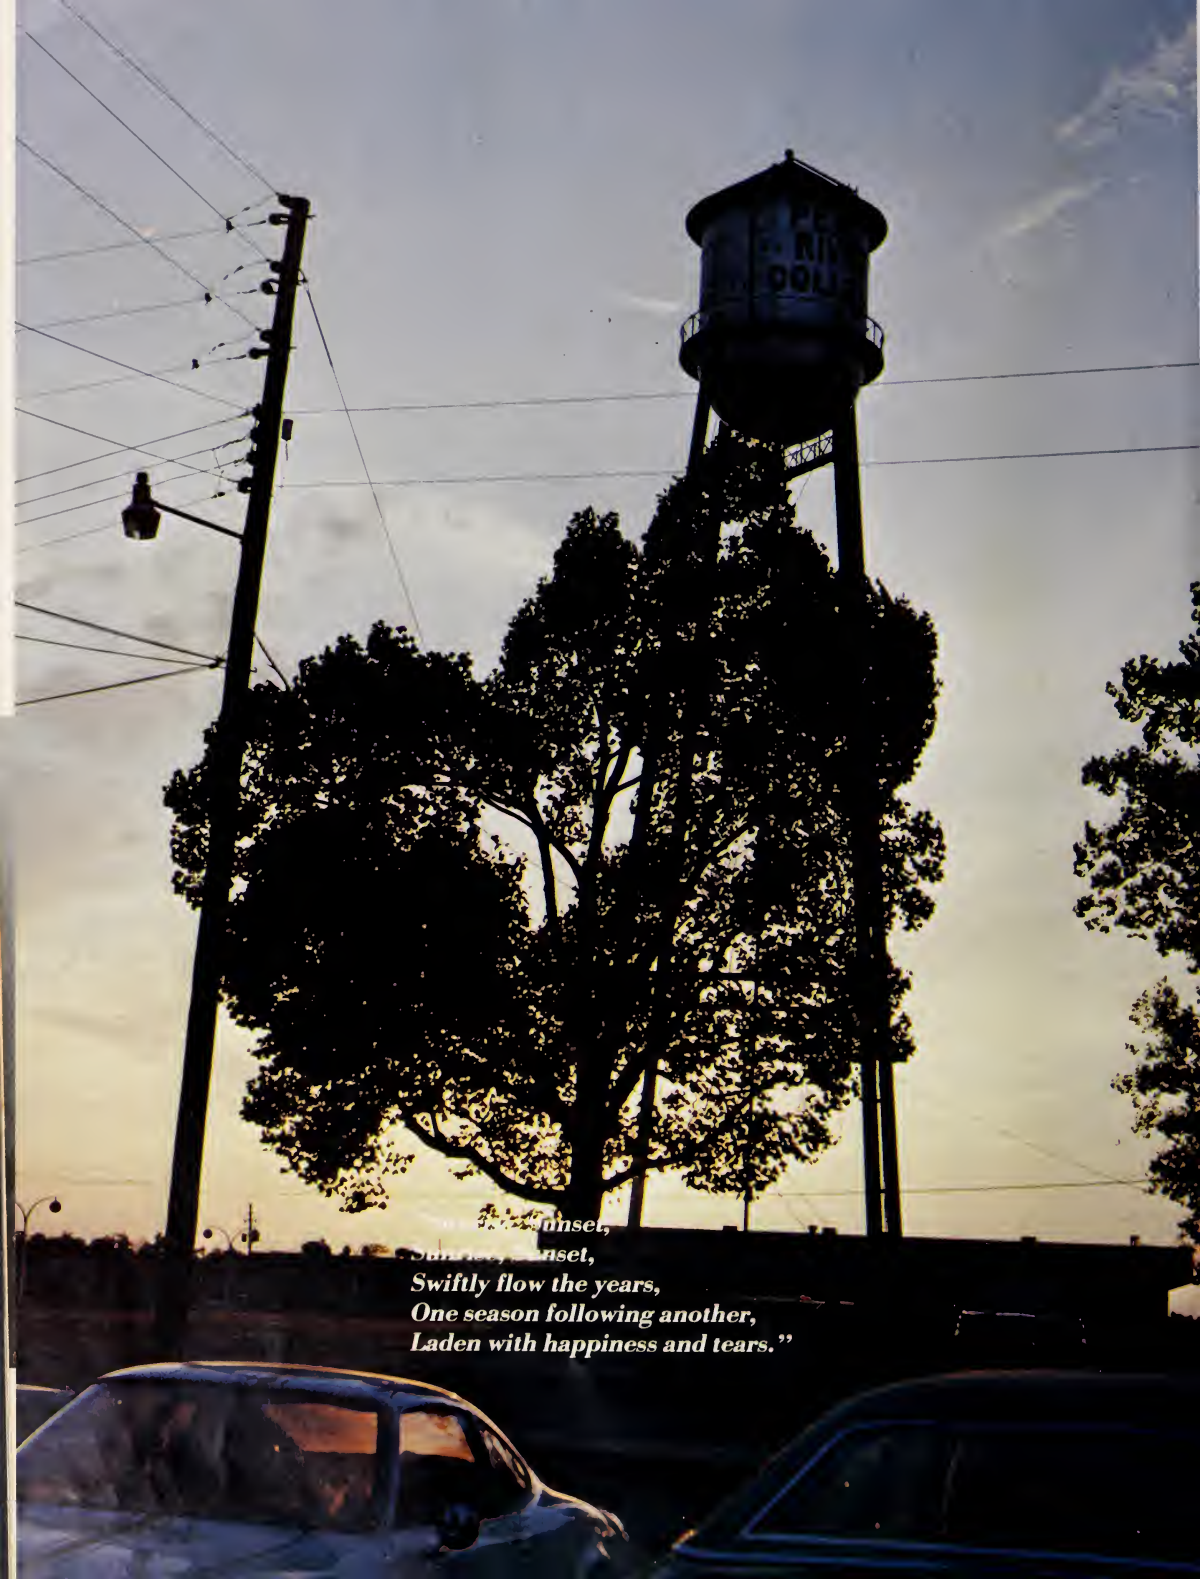
As darkness begins to fall on the Pearl River campus, the activity is rather hushed. An air of expectancy reigns over the campus as the evening meal ends.

Both girls and guys get ready for dates, the squirrels and birds on campus settle in for the evening, and as the stars come out, the campus awakens from its nap and begins to bustle again.



Many students find the library to be the best place to get any studying done on campus. With all the horsing around that goes on in the dormitories, the library is definitely "the late night place to be."

Although the library has its share of PRC students every night, so does Bogalusa. Considered by many people to be the dating capital of this region, "Bogie" is one place that holds memories for practically all of Pearl River's alumni.



[illegible] sunset,
[illegible] sunset,
Swiftly flow the years,
One season following another,
Laden with happiness and tears."

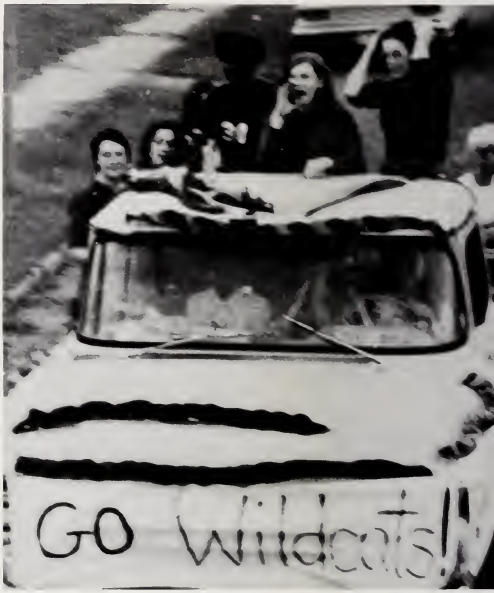
Lamar Hall Loses Roof

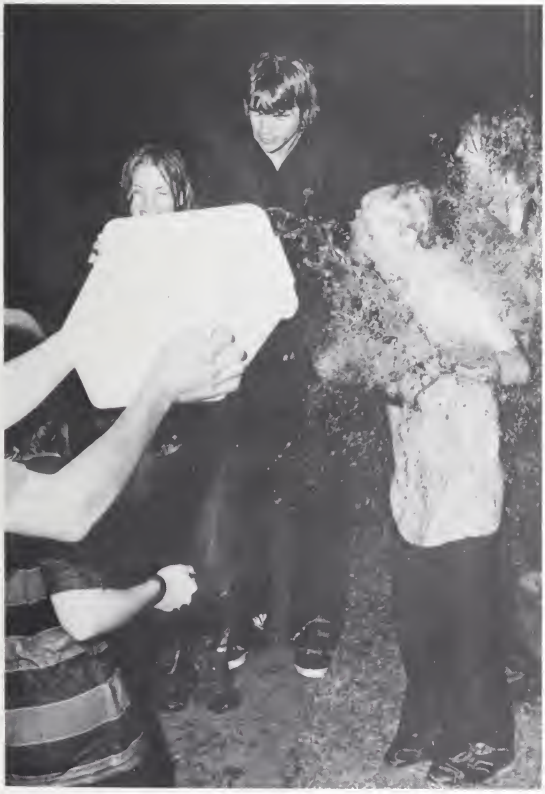
On Friday, January 17, Pearl River Junior College suffered damage caused by one of the worst rain storms in recent years.

Lamar Hall, the men's athletic dormitory, lost part of its roof causing six rooms to be flooded. Awnings in the front of the new gymnasium were blown away and a couple of cars had their windshields smashed by flying objects.

The electricity was off, school was let out at 1:45, and a few girls cried. Pearl River was rather lucky, though. Nearby McComb suffered eight dead and several injured when tornadoes swept through. All in all, it was an experience few cared to go through again.

Perk Week — you would have to be a part of it — to believe it. . .





PERK WEEK

Although practical jokes, water fights, and clowning around are an occasional part of living in the dorms at Pearl River, during Perk Week these infrequent pranks turn into five days of full scale war. This is the only week of the year that people are allowed to give each other baths on campus, that the tu-tu bird comes out of hiding, and that a choo-choo train goes around the Administration Building.

As soon as darkness fell each night, balloons, baggies, and any other container that would hold water were brought out and war was waged. It did no good to take a bath until just before you got into bed because you were sure to get soaked several more times before you even dried off.

The tu-tu bird made a trip to the River just to celebrate the annual occasion. You certainly won't find him in any bird watchers' guide because he's the only one of his kind, he's native to the third floor Huff Hall, and his plummage is quite similar to cotton underwear.

A human choo-choo train complete with flashing red lantern made its way around the campus on Thursday night of Perk Week. Its course was rather erratic, but its destination was a victory that just wasn't there.

HOMECOMING

This year's homecoming was dedicated to the 1924 graduating class of Pearl River Junior College. The day's festivities included a parade through town, the annual alumni banquet in the PRC cafeteria, the crowning of the homecoming queen, and, of course, beating Northeast 37-6.

Building floats was a task that took many of the clubs the entire week to complete. Clubs, classes, and departments of PRC entered floats in the parade along with many organizations and businesses in and around Poplarville. In the Pearl River division, the electricity department won first place, the carpentry and masonary departments tied for second, and the Baptist Student Union took third.

Cheryl McCullouch reigned throughout the day as queen of the festivities. A sophomore from Bay St. Louis, she was featured in the parade, at the Alumni Banquet, and was crowned just before the game.

Homecoming was a day in which memories were relived, but even more, it was a day in which memories were made.

Queen, Cheryl McCullouch, escorted by her father, Mr. J. D. McCullouch.

A Very Nice Day to Remember.

Christmas at Pearl River

Christmas at Pearl River Junior College was heralded all over the campus. Decorations, parties, and general goodwill were like aura over the entire P.R.C. community. Pearl River Hall sported a tree that surpassed the worst nightmares of the world's interior decorators. Decorations were hung in almost every office on campus. And the Dixie Drawl staff gave a party where (unfortunately) the strongest drink was coke.

Dixie Drawl Concert Thrills Crowd

The Dixie Drawl Concert turned out to be a smash hit for the third time in two years. The student center held a capacity crowd for four hours of entertainment provided by the campus community.

All styles of music were represented. Motivation top center provided a pulsating rock sound for both the beginning and conclusion of the show. Toppy Steiffel middle, left was a great success with her country-western flavor. Melissa Hall middle, center changed the pace with a couple of easy-listening show tunes. Lorraine Jackson added her own spiritual selections on the organ middle, right. Huey Kenmar brought his own seat in which to sing a number of folk tunes bottom.

Considered to be the best of the three collective concerts, February the fourth was a night to remember.

Pearls

Sequins sparkling under the flood lights, moving in time to the rhythm of the band, kick, bow, don't forget to smile — all part of performing in the String of Pearls.

Under the direction of Mrs. Lyda Sue Winegarden, the String of Pearls was a major attraction during Pearl River halftime shows.

Hailing from all points of the district, the String of Pearls is undoubtedly composed of the most beautiful pearls in Pearl River.

Wildcat Marching Band

1974-75 Band Members

Keith Booth, Joey Burge, Mark Craig, John Curran, Reta Curran, Stephen DeOrandlas, Keith Dossett, Mike Dozier, Edna Enslin, Neal Foxworth, Maurice Gates, Deborah Gates, Hector Gonzales, Eva Lynn Holston, Jane Howard, Becky Hurt, Glenn Jackson, Debi Lazarus, Roderick Lee, Jack Lucas, Vicki Mevay, Calvin Moody, Doug Pigott, Ken Rayborn, Greg Rester, Norman Rester, Jim Shamburger, John Shamburger, Fred Smith, Jeff Smith, Sharon Smith, Cathy Starita, Harold Strahan, Pamela Swales, Brad Travis, Katie Wesley, Henry Wilkinson, Dionne Williams, Robert Woodyard.

The 1975 WILDCAT staff began with about 12 ready and willing to work individuals. However, before the final pages were submitted, only two of the original group remained. Cheryl McCulloch right was the editor and she received help in the form of copy writing and lay out from Tony Smith below. Sheree Ladner worked on the student section the first semester, but it was the work of Dixie Drawl members, Mitch Deaver and Scott Bond, pictured below plus Sid Holston and Suzanne Vogel that helped get the job done when the final shipment was sent to Dallas.

This year's yearbook was hampered because it had only 128 pages compared to the 192 the year before. With this size book, only the highlights of the year could be covered and, obviously, many things had to be omitted. We still hope this book will bring back many of the fond memories of your stay at the River.

Pearl River Cheerleaders

"Rah! Rah! Rah! Sis! Boom! Bah!" Although the cheers have changed a little in the past few years, the spirit of the cheerleaders at Pearl River is just as strong as ever. Unfailing loyalty to their team, cheering themselves hoarse while people in the stands just stare down at them, sleeping in the PRC van on the way home from an away game — all of these are part of being a cheerleader. The joys and the honors make all of the hassles seem worthwhile. Just knowing that you have the responsibility of cheering your team on to victory is honor enough.

May, McCullouch Elected Mr. and Miss PRC

In December campus favorite elections, Tom May and Cheryl McCullouch were elected Mr. and Miss Pearl River Junior College along with twelve other favorites.

Tom May of Columbia, a Drafting major was an outstanding Football player for the PRC Wildcats. He was selected on the Mississippi Junior College All State and All Star Team. He was also selected as permanent team captain for the 1974-75 Wildcats, and Mr. PRC.

Cheryl McCullouch, a Business major from Bay St. Louis received many honors this year. She was 1975 Homecoming Queen, and head cheerleader for PRC. She was elected President of her dorm and served as 1975 Wildcat annual editor, and Miss PRC.

1975 Favorites Take a Trip to The Country

Class favorites at Pearl River didn't go on a long trip this year. Instead, they spent an afternoon on a farm outside of Poplarville. Stately trees, a quiet pond, and rolling acres of grass created a serene setting in which to pose for pictures.

Accidents had to occur — such as stepping in smelly puddles left by the cows or standing in an ant bed, but as a whole, the afternoon was enjoyed by everyone.

The favorites were chosen in December. Chosen for Mr. and Miss PRC were Tom May and Cheryl McCullouch. Mike Dozier, Randy Burge, David Edwards, Babs Bond, Kim Mitchell and Pam Lumpkin were picked as sophomore favorites. Freshman favorites were Randy Anderson, Sam Piazza, Ricky Cuevas, Mary Jo Mills, Donna Burge, and Susie Davis.

SCOREBOARD

PRC	17 — Delta	6
	7 — Jones	14
	16 — Co-Lin	13
	0 — Gulf-Coast	21
	7 — Holmes	21
	31 — Northeast	13
	37 — Southwest	6
	13 — Hinds	17

From the very beginning, it seemed that the 1974 football year would have its problems. The head coach quit, a hurricane delayed the season three weeks, and bad breaks at the most inopportune time set the stage for the Wildcats' mediocre 4-4 season.

Even with all the obstacles, the Cats still had a chance to repeat as south champs up until the last game.

The Cats opened with a very impressive win over the Delta Trojans, over all state champs from the previous year, and it looked as if the 1974 season would be nothing more than the usual PRC powerhouse.

However, the Jones Bobcats, a team that experienced an even worse year than Pearl River, surprised the Poplarville crew with a 14-7 win at the Ellisville campus. The Cats came close, but fumbled at the Jones goal line to stop themselves, and perhaps set the stage for things to come.

Pearl River returned to the comfortable confines of the Dobie Holden Stadium the next Saturday to eke out a hard fought 16-13 win over the Co-Lin Wolves. The win pushed the PRC record to a 2-1 mark for the traditional clash with arch-rival Gulf Coast. The Saturday night clash at Biloxi with the Perk Bulldogs proved too much for the Maroon and Gold as they were shut out for the first time in six years. Only the penalties against the Bulldogs kept the score as close as the final 21-0 mark.

The next Thursday night came too soon as the proud but soiled Wildcats traveled to Goodman to battle the usually weak Holmes Bulldogs. But as the old saying goes, there was no rest for the weary as the second set of dogs handed the Cats another setback by the score of 21-7.

Pearl River packed their bags with the consolation that the three remaining games would be played at home with friendlier surroundings. Homecoming 1974 was the next test as the Cats made good by whipping the Northeast Tigers 31-13. Southwest followed and even though they were title contenders at the time, the rejuvinated Wildcats handled them easily with a 37-6 win on a fog ridden night. In fact, the fog was so thick, the fans could not even see the sidelines — much less the action on the field.

The Hinds Eagles ended the eight game season for the Cats with a 17-13 victory, that not only ended the season but stopped the seven year home winning record by the Pearl River Gridders.

The season was over . . . Pearl River had won four and lost four. This was not a terrible year, but certainly not what PRC supporters were used to. Several players were named to all state and all star honors. They were Steve Smith, Louis Jordan, Willie Bullock, Tom May, Larry Tyrone, and Terry Adkins.

ROLL On BIG RIVER

Most smiles were before the season began . . .

Wildcat Coaches

Seligman named head only one week before season started

• • •

Harvey Seligman, was an assistant at PRC only one year before moving into the head coach slot. Seligman was put at somewhat a disadvantage as he was named to the position only one week prior to the season.

Johnson, a former Wildcat star, was brought in to coach the linemen.

Wins and points were hard to come by . . .

A new coach, a not so good record, and a relatively non-supportive following marked the 1974-75 season for the girls basketball team.

Dr. James Barnes, Pearl River Junior College Science Instructor, was named head coach of the "She-Cats" just one week before their first fracas. Even though the season ended with a rather disappointing record, Doc Barnes did an extremely admirable job.

Sophomore Suzanne Sims and freshman Jo-Ann Dawsey, and Kathy Eaves played outstanding ball throughout the year.

A note should be mentioned to the fact that at the time this page was sent in the girls had won three of their last five contest . . .

THE 1975 WILDCAT WAS 64 PAGES SHORTER THAN THE PREVIOUS YEAR, AND BECAUSE OF THE MUCH SMALLER BOOK ONLY THE HIGHLIGHTS OF THE SCHOOL YEAR COULD BE COVERED. HOWEVER, IT IS HOPED THAT EACH STUDENT WILL TAKE THIS YEARBOOK IN YEARS TO COME AND RELIVE THE MANY MEMORIES OF THEIR STAY AT PEARL RIVER JUNIOR COLLEGE.
